The property, located next to the exit section of Budaörsi út, used to be a cemetery and then a memorial site for American soldiers who died in World War II. In recent decades, the former function of the area has ceased, it is currently closed and cannot be visited. Apart from the necessary park maintenance tasks, no further conservation or development took place on the property.

The first part of the spring semester is a research program when the student in teamwork can decide their own specific program which should be multi-functional and multi-generational- cultural, educational, recreational- spaces serving the needs of the local community.
